Clarification regarding the obligation of designation and relevant information and training of workers in the first ambulance. When the educational requirements are higher than those required by the Ministerial Decree 388/2003

If the employer decides to make use of nursing staff, in sufficient numbers and adequate and throughout the duration of the service, it is not obliged to the designation of workers in first aid, provided for by Article. 18, paragraph 1, letter b) of Legislative Decree. N. 81/2008, as the educational and professional requirements of these personnel are higher than those stipulated by the Ministerial Decree 388/2003 ".

In addition, the employer "shall not be required to update the nursing staff", according to art. 37, paragraph 9, of Legislative Decree. N. 81/2008 considered the obligation of professional training provided for health personnel, which is in excess of the educational objectives and the minimum content of training identified in Annex 3 of the Ministerial Decree 388/2003 ".
